

ART WALL: Youth Art Month

For the month of March Waterford Public School students from PreK-12 will have artwork displayed throughout the library in support of Youth Art Month. Youth Art Month was created in 1961 by the Art & Creative Materials Institute, Inc. (ACMI). It takes place during the month of March every year and recognizes art education as a necessity for child and adolescent development and to place emphasis on art education's facilitation of critical thinking within students. Throughout the month numerous art displays are created all over the United States to bring attention to the arts with hopes of expanding programs in schools as well as community engagement. Come immerse yourself in a journey of art through the ages!
