FAMILY PROGRAMS:

Tuesday, November 5, 2:30PM - 3:30PM

Tellabration!

Join us for a special storytelling performance with Chris Clouet! Chris Clouet has told stories and shared music with children for many decades. He has written numerous songs, many of which are paired with classic children's books. By mixing spoken-word rhyming to music, call and response interaction, playful percussion-driven activities, and an engaging style of telling stories he supports children's curiosity about their world. Tellabration is a storytelling phenomenon, made up of dozens of storytelling happenings all over the world. It is offered by The Connecticut Storytelling Center, based in New London. Recommended for ages 4 and up, no registration required.

Saturday, November 9, 10:30AM

Owls Among us!

Join us for a special encounter and unique animal interaction - a great experience for owl lovers! We welcome back Gwen Rice of Freedom First Wildlife Rehab of Waterford. Freedom First Wildlife Rehab Inc. is a non-profit charity organization. They are federally and state permitted to care for birds of prey with a focus on owls. They depend upon community donations to do this important work! All ages are welcome, no registration required.

Saturday, November 23, 2:30PM - 3:30PM

The Nutcracker with Eastern Connecticut Ballet

Get ready for the holiday season with a special Nutcracker program with our friends from the local Eastern Connecticut Ballet! They will present the story then talk about the history of ballet and the Nutcracker. Audience members will even have a chance to try out some dance moves! This program is perfect for the whole family, no registration required. Thank you to M&T Bank for funding this program.
